

PRESS RELEASE

BigCityBeats WORLD CLUB DOME Winter Edition 2021

Super early-bird tickets & combo tickets now available

“Why are you preparing a three-day event when it’s still not certain whether it can take place?” A question that BigCityBeats visionary founder Bernd Breiter is asked multiple times a day. His answer: “It is important to give people something to hold onto, something to look forward to. When I personally think that we may not have spectator filled football matches in 2021 or the ability to attend concerts and events – I simply won’t allow myself to think in that way! That’s why we at BigCityBeats trust our common sense and are focussed on creating facts, and we’re doing this by revealing the first headline artists for the Winter Edition, and following it up by offering pre-sale tickets.”

The creative visionary and family based entrepreneur further emphasizes this by offering his confidence in the country’s political landscape and hopes that together they can take away the uncertainty the average person is feeling in regards to the future. “I think we all just want to move on from 2020, hide it in a drawer marked “Never Again!” and leave it there” said Breiter. Who answers this pertinent question, questions regarding Corona, and beyond, in an in-depth video interview at the end of the press release. “With the planning for the Winter Edition we take a clear position, stating that we can and will carry out the event. And our plans are already up and running at 100% per cent, because it would be simply impossible to run a professional and perfectly organized event if we waited for politicians to give the green light in October and we mobilized our plans from there onwards.”

It’s for this reason that BigCityBeats is now progressing forward and is promoting regular ticket sales. Pre-registration is already in full swing and from Wednesday, August 5, 2020, advanced tickets for the largest winter club in the world will finally be available. WorldClubbers will be offered the choice of various ticket categories. A three day club ticket is 108 Euros, if you fancy upgrading and treating yourself to VIP status, the three day ticket will cost you 245 Euros. And if contrary to expectations, the Winter Edition, scheduled to take place on January 8, 9, 10, 2021, does not in fact take place, all tickets will be fully refunded.

The third consecutive BigCityBeats WORLD CLUB DOME Winter Edition to take place in the Dusseldorf MERKUR SPIEL – ARENA, the majestic arena cannot wait to once again welcome thousands of WorldClubbers. More than simply the opportunity to rejoice and celebrate together, the line-up is one of the most incredible to date. As always, this is a top class mix of DJs, acts and artists from all areas of club music. House in the form of ALLE FARBEN, Techno with NINA KRAVIZ, EDM represented by superstar duo DIMITRI VEGAS & LIKE MIKE, and full blooded Hardstyle with ANGERFIST, the figurehead for the hardest sound in the world. The perfect hip-hop sound will feature in the form of the 257ers. And special excitement is reserved for a live performance from the iconic SCOOTER, Germany’s longest serving and craziest techno band. With a career spanning 27 years and having sold more than 30 million records SCOOTER is certain to create a WORLD CLUB DOME moment like no other.
